Colmer in, amends in doubt

Dog pound pondered

Waveland sells bonds gets 5.75 percent

Fifth District Rep. William M. Colmer romped to an impressive win in Tuesday's Democratic Congressional primary while three amendments to the Mississippi constitution were ratified by easy majorities in Hancock County.

Early reports from across the state, however, indicated the amendment providing for annual sessions of the legislature might be defeated. Returns from 24 of the 28 boxes favored the amendment 898 to 210.

The amendment easing voter residence requirements carried 91 to 106 and the one on oil and mineral exploration in navigable waterways won 950 to 138.

The county election commission meets today to canvas returns on the amendments. Missing from the unofficially tallied totals are Cran Creek, Kiln No. 1, Waveland No. 2 and North Bay because Catahoula was the only precinct where an amendment failed to carry. It rejected the residence requirement change 26 to 18.

At an interest rate of 5.75 per cent First National Bank, Memphis, was successful bidder on Waveland's $60,000 bond issues for street improvement and recreation. Only other bidder was Speed Ferguson, Inc., Jackson.

At the request of Mrs. George Stetz, recreation director, the mayor appointed and the aldermen approved an advisory committee composed of Charles Dickson, Marie Strong, Henry Monti and Thomas Kidd. The town fathers also authorized Mrs. Stetz to see if a more permanent arrangement can be made with the Louisville & Nashville Railroad for use of Elwood Park. At present the town uses this on a one-year lease subject to cancellation on 30-days notice. The longer term is sought so that the town would be justified in making improvements such as lighting and tennis courts.

Town Council unanimously approved the request by Continental Trailways to go on record in favor of that carrier's application to the Interstate Commerce Commission to provide service over US 90 from Mobile to New Orleans. B.A. Kitchens, who represented the bus company at the meeting, pointed out that if the application were granted his common carrier could provide through service to many points east of Mobile and west of New Orleans where transfers are now necessary.

Alderman Dominic Sonier asked if Trailways would have an agency and regular stop in the business area of Waveland. Kitchens replied that as the application is now worded this is not possible but Trailways would have an agency stop on US 90 in Waveland's city limits. He also anticipated that the bus company would have regular stops at Pearlington, Ocean Springs and Long Beach, where, like Waveland, Greyhound must be flagged at these points.

Alderman Sonier questioned whether the town is justified in continuing to rent the dog pound at $26 per month since it no longer has a dog catcher. Alderman John Longo said they ought to do something about the dogs, giving illustrations of molesting in the town. The immediate question was partially resolved by the aldermen asking the mayor, while summer help was being used, to delegate two of his most responsible men to round up the dogs in the corporate limits.

They argue the city didn't have a sufficient plan for proposed improvements, materials to be used and terminal points of streets when the first resolution was adopted. The city's newspaper advertisement April 25 pledging a front foot assessment against abutting property owners would not exceed $2 and tax increase not over 4 mills caused many prospective objectors to protest, the opponents claim. They also contend the city should have known from the plans this work could not be financed within published limitations which they say constitute sufficient grounds to invalidate the resolution.

The discussion then moved to the pack of wild dogs living and breeding in the area of the garbage dump in Jackson Ridge, which is outside the town limits.

It was agreed that this was a source of some strays coming into Waveland and Dufour was directed to write to the board of supervisors requesting it to abate this source of stray dogs.

David E. Johnson, chairman of Waveland's advisory board on public education, reported on his group's meeting last week with trustees of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District.

For county schools

Bus costs to be cut

Transportation operating costs should drop by $16,619 during the 1968-69 school year, county school trustees learned Monday.

A plan prepared by transportation supervisor Ezell Lee and presented by Robert Clapp, superintendent at Hancock North Central, showed a potential operating outlay of $94,181 next year. Last year's figure was $98,500.

Although this is not expected to be the low point in forthcoming budget discussions, trustees voted to firm figures they intended to act for a very realistic budget.

At stake is the additional three mill levy to be acted on by the county trustees to meet the projected teacher pay raise.

Now totaling $5 million, two more have been authorized by the state legislature and an additional one mill will be curtailed before state comes. This will tip the school system's maximum to $20 million.

The big difference in transportation costs, according to Clapp, is that all equipment is in good shape.

Hearings set on train cut

The Interstate Commerce Commission has scheduled hearings in New Orleans and Mobile on the Fontainbleau Motor Hotel. It will move to Mobile June 19.

The railroad sought to discontinue the trains in May but the ICC ordered them to continue through the summer, pending the hearing.

The New Orleans hearing

After a review of accounts Phillips said it looked like they owed $41,548.48. On Nov. 9, 1963 trustee seemingly borrowed $16,028 from the 18th Section account and in June of '68 $31,000 from Hancock Bank for bus purchase. Of this they had repaid $6,274.25.

Phillips said the board could borrow money for specific purposes, such as bus purchasing, and repay from the state transportation allocation. He said that such items must appear in the front end of any transportation budget and their repayment allowed for in any balance.

Edward P. Orte, board proxy, said he felt they should obtain a complete set of figures and study their repayment picture before attempting to borrow any more money for bus purchasing.

In other matters trustees approved a request by the North Central 4-H Club to use a school bus for a field trip, providing the group employ one of the system's licensed drivers. They leased a section of Jackson Ridge to C.A. Beal for three months at $300. He is to operate a concession there.

Roland Summers was hired to teach social studies and math at Charles B. Murphy Elementary School.

Paving bond route under fire, mayor rebuffs opponents

"Proponents of the latest City Hall plan to repair Bay St. Louis' streets came up with another legal maneuver Wednesday morning and Commission Council promptly labeled it an attempt to louse up the $780,000 bond issue sale set for 10 a.m. Monday.

A delegation of George Allison, Earl Raymond, A.K. Martinovich and A.C. Mercier, accompanied by attorneys Michael and Nicholas Haas presented what they called "exceptions" appealing to the September term of Circuit Court council.

"The City Council has been presented with what attorneys say are 'exceptions' to the bill of exceptions. In this bill of exceptions they make numerous allegations, but among them is an allegation that the statutes of the State of Mississippi authorizing special assessments are unconstitutional.

"Other signers were Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Ward, Dr. A.K. Martinovich, Jr., Richard O. Kolstad, Norton Haas, Jim F. Larroux and J. Norton Haas, Jr.

"Mayor John A. Scafide declined to sign the 'bill of exceptions' and send it on to the circuit clerk, declaring it was not truly such a bill.

"Appellants claim they are adversely affected by acts of municipal authorities in the resolution of April 8 listing streets on which improvements were contemplated, subject to protest petitions, and the May 27 resolution setting up the improvement plans and financing after protests were checked.

"They argue the city didn't have a sufficient plan for proposed improvements, materials to be used and terminal points of streets when the first resolution was adopted. The city's newspaper advertisement April 25 pledging a front foot assessment against abutting property owners would not exceed $2 and tax increase not over 4 mills caused many prospective objectors to protest, the opponents claim. They also contend the city should have known from the plans this work could not be financed within published limitations which they say constitute sufficient grounds to invalidate the resolution.

"The bill alleges that Chapters 495 and 252 of the state code violate the state and federal constitutions, that purging of protests was unconstitutional and numerous persons were denied the right to protest.

"Nothing appears on the council's minute book although some 700 protests were registered April 26 but the book is vacant from April 15 to May 6, it continues.

The resolutions are termed a deliberate effort by the city to circumvent the will of the people who defeated repair plans in two previous general elections.

"The document concludes, 'The administration people, for purely personal and political reasons, to hinder, and if possible, prevent any constructive street program regardless of its merit.'

"Actions of this type have no basis in fact or law except harassment and are being done to discourage, if possible, prospective bond buyers and will penalize the people of Bay St. Louis with higher interest rates bid for bonds.

"We are reliably informed this group hopes that if they can prevent any improvement by the present administration, a succeeding administration under their control would prefer a $3.2 million bond issue to 'do the job right.' In fact, J. Norton Haas, Jr., told me in my office of this $3.2 million plan and I assured Haas that I would support his bid for mayor if he would campaign on that proposal.

"Of course, any administration, whether dominated by Haas or not, with a $3.2 million dollar improvement program would have engineering and attorney fees of $224,000, almost one-third of our entire street improvement program."

Betsy bashed beach may linger longer

It's just possible that the 1968 Hurricane Betsy damage to the beachfront road won't get off the ground in this construction season, the board of supervisors learned Tuesday.

John Brooks of Malchow and Associates, county engineer, reported the Mississippi Highway Department state aid division advised him it will be at least 30 days after the county certifies its share of funds are available before bids can be sought. That's because the Federal Bureau of Public Roads in Washington must review the details as it's putting up part of the funds.

Board Attorney Joseph Benvenuti reported that papers on the $100,000 loan the county is getting from Hancock Bank to finance some of its share are still in the state bond attorney's office and must be validated. Mrs. Wagner Miami bound for GOPs

Mrs. Fred Wagner of 116 Ballantine St. was elected Saturday by the Mississippi Republican convention in Jackson as one of its 20 delegates to the national convention in Miami, Fla., in August.

The convention also selected Mrs. Wagner and Rudolph Philippe, Jackson attorney and GOP candidate for governor in 1968, as its two members on the platform committee for the national convention.

Mrs. Wagner, the former Virginia Sod, has been active in Republican activities for a number of years and currently is Congresswoman District GOP women's chairman.

Indications are that Mrs. Wagner is among the majority of the Republican delegation who favor the nomination of Richard Nixon for the presidency. The New Orleans newspaper reported Sunday that all but two of the delegation are Nixon aligned. Delegates were instructed to vote under the unit rule.

While complete records are not available, it is believed Mrs. Wagner will be the first Hancock County to serve as a national Republican convention delegate-at-large since Reconstruction Days.

Andre McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.C. McDonald, Jr., was a page at the GOP convention Saturday.

Blanchette, a transfer from St. Paul, Minn., William Frank Mitchell, Larry Tillman, Gerald W. Page, Clarence O. Kennedy, Julian D. Bounds, Oswald J. Asher, Charles O. Farve, and James D. Reynolds, left for their pre-induction physicals.

James S. Myers enlisted into the U.S. Navy on May 17 and Charles Curtis Curver enlisted on May 28 into the U.S. Marine Corps.

The local board is still trying to locate Melvin Wilson, whose last known address was 402 Mexican St., Las Vegas, John O. Kramer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kramer of Waveland, was given his bachelor of science degree in computer science May 10 by the University of Southern Mississippi.

Graduate of Bay High School, class of '68, he served three years in the U.S. Army and is married to the former Kathy Barry of Picayune. He is to be employed by the Heart Research Department of the Veterans Hospital at Birmingham, Ala., while he continues studies at the University of Alabama.

missing from the Congressional primary county, Colmer had 1,373 votes to 33 for J.C. Killingsworth, 25 for Jim Holiday and 6 for J.H.C. Thomas.

Voting was light here and across the state. Only about 1,500 Hancock voters went to the polls out of some 10,000 on the registration books. Polls closed at 6 p.m. and first returns got to the Courthouse about 45 minutes later. The two Central School boxes were the last to arrive about 8:15 p.m.

Nev., Mrs. Ladner said, anyone who can give any information as to his whereabouts is asked to contact the board.

Graduating class

Bay, Waveland agree on need of new school

Arrived that the school system had to build a new junior high, perhaps it would be located nearer to or in Waveland.

Also at the special meeting were Robert H. Butler and Edwin C. Snow, both of Pearlington, who briefly outlined to trustees the problem of that area being in the county school system. They indicated a hope that the Pearlington area could become a part of the municipal system. On this point Butler mentioned all the area south of the buffer zone and thence along the Jourdan River as a possible extension of the Bay system. He indicated further that he would seek the advice and help of the appropriate state school officials.

In past years about 150 students from this area have attended the Bay St. Louis schools, with the county transporting them and paying $150 tuition. This arrangement is not anticipated for the coming school year if only because such might cause the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to reclassify the county school system as being non-conforming in its integration of races.

In addition to Johnson the Waveland Advisory Committee on Public Education members present were Dr. Henry Maggio, Dr. M.L. Dodson, Henry Morris and Otto Singleton. All trustees were present as were Superintendent Joe D. McCullough and attorney Sam Favre.

He further said that he felt that within 30 to 60 days a decision on the new school would be made, but added that any construction would require a bond issue, subject to voter approval. In this connection Hamilton said he would be guided by the opinion of Mayors John Scalfida, Bay St. Louis, and Garfield Ladner, Waveland, as to the timing of a bond issue vote. He guesstimated the bond issue needed to be in the $300,000 to $400,000 range.

The Waveland delegation asked that the proposed new Waveland school consist of grades one through 8 but Hamilton explained that the school system was operated on a 6, 3, 3 basis, six years elementary, three years junior high and three years senior high. He was then asked what was the possibility of Waveland having a junior high school now and Superintendent Joe D. McCullough pointed out that a junior high, in addition to classrooms, would require a gymnasium, football field, home economics, etc.

In conversation in this connection the trustee president commented that the present Bay Junior High could stand only one more renovation. He then speculated that when the time its crossing on the Lakeshore Road, slated for state aid improvement this year. The board held for study a $2,500 bill for engineering to date on the Lakeshore job.

Tabled for action this coming Monday were two bids to computerize auto tag sales this year. Hancock Bank was the highest at $2,980 and for the first year's cost and $1,980 for the second year, based on an estimate that 25 per cent of 8,000 licenses will be handled through the mails. Computer Services, Inc., bid $3,505 for handling the program from June through December.

At the board's invitation, Leon Button, assistant inspector for the Highway Patrol, outlined how the patrol would use a radar machine if the county were to buy one and lease it at $1,000 a year. This six-county district has only one radar unit. He estimated one would cost $800 to $1,000, said it would be put in a car stationed in Hancock County but might also be used elsewhere in the district. It can operate on secondary highways as long as they are state and federally maintained, Button said.

Russell J. Elliott, supervisors' president, noted interest in keeping fatalities and accidents down in the county. Sheriff Fred Curet commented later that his deputies did not work U.S. 90 in the daylight "because we don't want to get involved with the tourist situation."

Curet, also tax collector, reported he has gotten $1,200 delinquent taxes on equipment and is working on one bill for $2,800. After consultation with the attorney-general's office, he has secured the necessary forms and found that after property is seized and it can't be transported, it must be guarded.

Tabled for more information was a request from Neillus Favre for a contribution for the Dixie Youth Baseball League's proposed yearbook. It concerned with a $100 contribution made through the Chamber of Commerce toward the Children's International Summer Village this year at St. Margaret's Daughters camp, and with the selection by the chamber of Kathy Saum of Waveland as the county's entry in the 1968 Miss Hospitality contest of the Agricultural and Industrial Board.

Supervisors went on record supporting Continental Trailways' application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to operate a bus service on U.S. 90 between Mobile and New Orleans.

Lucien Carmichael urged the board to move along with revisions to the county subdivision ordinance enacted by the previous administration.

Supervisors tussle with bumper claims

... Motley was the big topic of most of Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Supervisors as they wrangled with how to meet the May claim dockets with what left in the till. First session of the month was postponed from Monday because of the holiday on Jefferson Davis Day.

The seawall maintenance fund, already operating with more than $60,000 of borrowed funds, ran into the biggest trouble with claims of $11,730.92 and only about $2,000 in the bank.

Other beat dockets according to the tapes were Beat 1--$6,080.76; Beat 2--$6,147.88; Beat 3--$6,088.76, and Beat 4--$7,571.01.

Supervisors agreed to pay only wages, including their own salaries, which ran to $4,212.50, plus a bridge toll refund, storage rental to Jack Lott and a monthly lease-purchase payment to Coastal Machinery, for a combined $4,307.50.

Dolph Kellar of Beat 2 moved to hold all other seawall bills but noted this can't be done legally for longer than 30 days. C.A. Russ, III, of Beat 2 and Joseph Cuvas of 3 insisted activity has to be cut down. Russ suggested letting out the three aids for assistant engineer Arthur Rogers and individual beats pay if they need that work. Cuvas wanted to give all seawall employees a month's holiday.

Trouble is money only comes in at about $13,000 a month and $10,000 is earmarked for retiring outstanding obligations. Beat 3 Supervisor Russell J. Elliott suggested the county might have to "skip" one payment on the $100,000 bank loan for the beachfront road emergency repairs in order to catch up elsewhere.

Garnar fund bills ran to $13,739.97, including $1,154 for the clerk's and sheriff's fees for the May term of Circuit Court. The jury bill has not yet been received. The board expressed concern over enactment of legislation creating a fourth term of court, starting July 1. The prison food bill was $915.

Beat 5's road and bridge fund bills ran to $22,036.78 but several were lopped off or earmarked as port and harbor work for which that commission had authorized a $9,000 loan for 15 days. Balance not used for labor and materials is to be repaid. A $714 item from Bond Paving Co. was transferred to Bond Paving Co. because they were for patch work on the beach road. Port director Charles Hill was called in to verify bills for equipment repairs and labor.

Russell J. Elliott, supervisors' president, noted interest in keeping fatalities and accidents down in the county. Sheriff Fred Curet commented later that his deputies did not work U.S. 90 in the daylight "because we don't want to get involved with the tourist situation."

that they were approved. Disallowed were $1,409.91 in wages found to be duplicates and paid by other beats.

The board also approved a transfer made May 7 from Beat 3 construction fund to maintenance, finding previous authorization had not been recorded in the minutes.

Johnson also agreed to hold him in case of claims of the Waveland, such as brook water, should be taken care of the summer. This will be present to the Board of Supervisors at its meeting on June 11.

Other beat dockets according to the tapes were Beat 1--$6,080.76; Beat 2--$6,147.88; Beat 3--$6,088.76, and Beat 4--$7,571.01.

Supervisors also approved payments recommended by the port and harbor commission May 23 totaling about $93,000 for engineering services at the port and airport. Biggest sum was $87,816.80 to Bauer Dredging Co. for additional payments resulting from higher unit costs when the scope of the Mulatto Bay project was reduced.

Johnson also agreed to hold him in case of claims of the Waveland, such as brook water, should be taken care of the summer. This will be present to the Board of Supervisors at its meeting on June 11.

Biggest payment comes due on June 11 for a $200,000 U.S. day government contract.

The mayor and aldermen requested day.

Judge executes heavy docket

Nine jury trials, most of them in traffic accident cases, and default judgments totaling $222,55 were among the busy civil docket disposed of by Judge Leslie B. Grand during the recent May term of Circuit Court which closed Saturday.

In final criminal case, Kenneth Nainvorog, indicted of a previous term for trespass loss of larceny, pleaded guilty and was fined $500, suspended on good behavior, except for $100 in costs. Two appeals from a city court conviction, Bay St. Louis vs. Barbara A. Burch, were dismissed for want of prosecution.

Biggest petit jury verdict was a $8,228 judgment against Mrs. Alma O. Durham in a case tried before T.J. Whitfield yesterday. The plaintiff moved for a non-suit after T.J. Whitfield told the jury he did not sign a promissory note or authorize anyone to sign for him. Cameron claimed payment was overruled.

Motion for a new trial was overruled in Allen W. Evans, dba Foundation, Ltd., vs. Commercial Service and Supply Co., et al. It was not suited as to Spanish Acres and Coast Wholesale Supply Co. and the jury directed to return a verdict for the defendants without prejudice to the right of the plaintiff to proceed against Franklin S. Lumpkin, Jr., for a debt without asking for a lien against his property.

Default judgments were Edward Sofra, dba Edward Electric and Refrigeration, vs. Joseph S. Peterson, $1,841.65 and interest from Dec. 20, 1966; United Oil Corp. vs. James W. Vernon Lee Wahl vs. Mrs. Melva Nacelle after a jury was deadlocked 4-4 after two hours. In Tampa Picayune Publishing Co. vs. Walter Lawrence et al the court sustained the plaintiff's motion for a non suit and dismissed Lawrence and directed the jury that the counter claim of J.H. Spiers be dismissed and a verdict of $1,500 be returned against Spiers and Reinhard.

Viewing week facts by all over town and especially on the beach made us realize again the once popular song "I Scare Like Old Times." Out of a sudden, the whole area seems to have come back to life again. Places we haven't visited for the past few years are once again drawing to them and there's a veritable buzz of activity everywhere you chance to look. Fisherman line the piers; automobile drivers and swimmers up and down the bays; crabs have discovered that pilings near the breakwater on the beach make ideal crabbing spots and boats of every size and type appear almost as numerous as people. Water skiers were more numerous than ever before, and even long after the sun had set, bathers may be seen mingling with lights of streamers and the shore line.

Welcome and please be tidy

Nowhere else in all the days since things seem tranquilly from Coosa Beach in June until Labor Day, than all but died a natural death. The last vacationer closed his summer home. Now we find lots of congenial new residents, new and old vacationers, more and more and more tourists. By the time we get there, those who come all the way from way up north to the far reaches of the country. Anyways we want to welcome you all and before we get into the chit chat bit, just a special note to all campers, picnickers, etc. to please try and help keep our beaches and other recreation areas attractive so that you and others may enjoy them all summer long.

Try to find the rifle range!

Along these two world places: a detailed account of the formal opening of Sheriff Fred Carter's new rifle range located on Bayou La Crosse Road. Unfortunately circumstances much too involved to recount here prevented our attending the function and enjoying free fish, etc. After talking to a number of others who missed the big doings, we felt a bit less stupid for having lost the small road leading to the site in the midst of mad Memorial weekend traffic, for many reported that they too were headed in the right direction, but didn't manage to find the spot which, of necessity, located pretty much in the boondocks.

Everyone who attended the Krewe of Nereid's New Orleans jazz party says they had a real fun time. St. Louis' Parish hall was elaborately and appropriately decorated simulating an authentic background for the famed band, one led by the late Papa Celestin. Musicians marched around the floor followed by revelers clapping hands 'n time to the tempo. Just a few present were Elaine and Joe Colson, Maurice and Fred Bourgeois, Dot and Merlin Marke, Gerri and Sam Blanchard and guests, Ruth and Matt Ballatin, Nancy and Lucien Lex, Bobbie and Dorothy Maggs, Gerry and Charlie Johnson, Shirley and Gans Williams, Phyl and Jimmy Lagasse, Art and Henry Doville, Lillian and Joe Griffin, Naomi and Mark Doyle and Ura May and Connie Horlhy. Also, Nona and Harold Zimmerman, Dennis and Sidney Bourgeois, Edith and Jimi Favreau, Doris and Cliff Vogt, Fran and Bob Lucas, Jean and Johnny Longo, etc., etc.

Fly flags for our veterans

Excitement mounts over the upcoming state convention of World War I Veterans and Chairman Milton Durel is all but making himself coming and going as the date draws ever nearer. There will be some spectacular conveyances in the parade and we're hoping that everyone will remember to hoist flags on all three days, June 19, 20 and 21.

Senior set organizes

Another active group is the newly organized Hancock County Senior Citizens Club which met for the second time at the Agricultural building Wednesday. Mrs. Reed Frisbie is president of the group and says there is no age limit and anyone who would like to attend the most entertaining sessions may call her at 437-2318 and free transportation will be furnished. In addition to music and games, a full program of arts and crafts is to be offered in coming months, and delicious refreshments are served after each social function.

Master Sgt. Porfirio D. Quintini, who really slayed the fresh water fish while on a 30-day leave, left Saturday by train for San Francisco. He'll grab a plane there and fly to Thailand for a year's tour of duty with the USAF. Mrs. Quintini, the former Margalo Damborino, and children, will spend the 12 months in Bay St. Louis.

At Hemisfair

We should have known that "Cap" and Harry Cudjpon could do about the first local residents to take in the 1968 World's Fair in San Antonio, Texas. They did all of the sights before going on to San Francisco for the wedding of their granddaughter, Diane Bolon, Diane to Gerald and Chuck Bolon's oldest and gayly will remember her as a small child when she was a guest at Diane's High School.

Speaking of wedding, Gorri and Son Blanchard came into the Crescent City Friday to attend the marriage of Gorri and Matt Ballatin's daughter, Anna, to Michael Curo. The wedding originated at a large reception at the Catfish Inn, Antebellum, involving the entire community.

Beck Davis has been back into town Friday after his most recent air medical voyage. Ann and Charles and sons Bill and Edward have come from Hattiesburg, Miss., to spend the weekend with their parents, Gladys and Slim Sander.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE W. MCDONALD AND SON SHOW OFF THEIR SUMMER PEANUTS

Many friends and neighbors stopped by the McDonald home after shopping several places, to see the peanuts and believe me, it was quite a sight. The peanuts were about five inches long and were very good.

May bridal couple

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vincent Hill were married May 19 at First Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Bettye Carol Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Hill. Couple is residing in Demopolis, Ala., this summer and will resume collegiate studies in the fall.

Jim Snook breezed in from Whittier, Calif., Friday and of course had snapshots of the baby. He showed to admiring friends.

Gala opening

The opening of Velma and Cosmo Teracis' new Harbor Inn at Clermont proved successful beyond any expectations. Cars were parked side by side for blocks for the grand opening Sunday and we couldn't help to name all who were heading to O'Toole's Drifting Gaitersplains' music and taste sampling barbecue spare ribs and hamburgers. Just across the street were Leah and George, Virginia and Edgar, Mary and Jerry Ladner, Myrtle and Melvin McEndie, and Sweets Starita, Elva Curtis Ladner, Eunice and many, many more. Building is extremely large with paneled walls, air conditioned, and in addition to the large dance floor has a restaurant, lounge, pool room.

Marge (Mrs. Mac) McCutcheon luckily escaped serious injury in an automobile accident last week, but is having trouble with her back as she was badly injured in a fall several years ago.

Bride corner

It's just absolutely remarkable to ask parents of small children off busy streets, office, street or on bicycles! It just reminds drivers that little ones are out in force and it's apparently the season when the ignores an opportunity to interact with exuberant children during the next moments.

Major stars have a treat store to the Gulf Coast Theater of Asia is presenting "House of Gold" East High School Friday and Saturday night. Harold Poxell, a favorite in so many local productions, is cast in the dual role of Dr. Seldon and the Star Major.

Alvin Ladner, Jr., and his lovely wife got a warm welcome to Waveland as they have moved into their new home on Candy Circle.

Mabel and Jimmy Normand celebrated their 34th wedding anniversary June 3.

One of our spuds reported posing Ida and Jack Kramer shopping for a baby bed last Friday. Don't get excited as the furniture may just be for visiting grandchildren!

What every new bride should know?

Let's see!

His shirts...starch or no starch?

His eggs...sunnyside up or over lightly?

His coffee...a bit on the strong side?

His steak...medium-rare or rare-rare?

His favorite pie...apple or cherry?

Knowing these things is important.

Knowing this is important, too: A&P is a store you can trust.

Brides have been doing it for over a century.

As a matter of fact, nobody has ever had more brides walk down their aisle than A&P

We think it's important for brides, new or old, to find a store they can trust, to know that everything they buy is totally guaranteed.

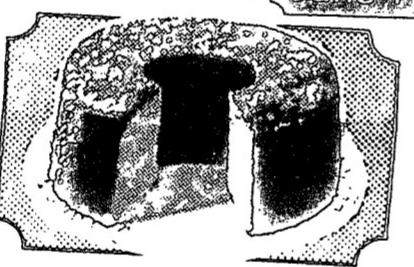

That's A&P Policy.

No matter who makes it, if A&P sells it, A&P guarantees it.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

Realtors whack Anthony to win Sideline tourney

Southern Realty defeated Anthony's Men's Wear 11-5 to win the annual St. Stanislaus Colins Club softball tournament played Sunday on the St. Augustine Seminary's diamonds. Both teams are members of the Bay Softball League and competed with teams from the Coastal area and New Orleans.

But the funniest, most exciting and spectacular game was a semi-final between Southern Realty and Dousson's all of New Orleans, won by Southern Realty 8-4 when so many players were sent to the showers by the umpires. It was doubtful if there would be enough to finish the game.

The fireworks started when Jimmie's drive was deflected off pitcher's glove and caught the second baseman resulting in an umpire's consultation reference to rule books, according to the Bay League. It was an out but according to New Orleans League it was the same as if the ball had hit the ground and could have been played as a ground ball, throwing the run-league lead unchanged as 31 week ends

ner out at first. Meanwhile two players were evicted from the game apparently for conduct unbecoming gentlemen. After a batter was called out, the New Orleans pitcher returned to the mound and played resumed but the pitcher, evidently somewhat upset, forgot he was playing slow pitch and fired a ball that would have done credit to Dizzy Dean. This brought everyone running to the center of the diamond for another meeting, the Southern Realty players contending the pitcher should be evicted, or worse, and the Dousson play-

7 for 8, take Delisle, 12-11

Willie Bradley scored from third on a sacrifice fly by Billie Ray Foxworth with two out in the bottom of the 12th inning to give the St. Rose Sluggers their seventh win in eight games Sunday on the St. Rose diamond. Final score was St. Rose 12, Delisle 11.

Going into the eighth inning 9-3 but scored 6 in that inning to tie the game. Both teams went scoreless in the 9th, 10th and 11th but in the top of the 12th Delisle drove in two men to go ahead 11-9.

The slingers' winning rally came on singles by Marshal Hattix and Myron Labat, a walk to Bradley, a double by Sanders Bell and Foxworth's sacrifice fly.

For the Sluggers, Foxworth got two doubles, two singles and 5 RBIs; Sanders Bell a double, a single and three RBIs; Braden a single and a double; Milton Dorsey a triple and a single, and Maurice Simon a double.

Andrew Nash started on the mound for the Sluggers and was relieved after nine innings with the score tied 7-7 by Maurice Simon who got credit for the win.

The Sluggers will host Abita Springs at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Rose Stadium.

Corps shuts realty office

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers real estate office in Bay St. Louis, opened on June 12, 1963 and staffed at one time by 47 personnel, was closed June 7 when its manager and sole employee, William Martin, closed doors for the last time.

During its term of operation the office handled one of the biggest real estate operations in the state's history requiring 141,500 acres of land for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Mississippi Test Facility.

The office purchased 2,285 parcels of land, or 8% percent of the total area required in for simple by NASA, about 891 parcels, or about 18 percent of the ownership, having to go to court because of owner disagreement with government as to or over terms of ownership.

Where land titles were not clear or where there were discussions between joint owners, it was necessary to come to a consensus for the government to condemn the land required for both the test site and buffer zone.

The Corps acquired approximately 18,500 acres in no-simple as sites for the test stands and support facilities, and slightly over 128,000 acres under easement in a surrounding border zone. In this border or buffer zone, human habitation is not permitted but farming, stock raising, pulpwood harvesting and similar operations can be carried out.

The Corps was only able to obtain easements for only 288 parcels in the buffer zone with 328 parcels referred to the federal court at Biloxi for a determination of value and, in some cases, ownership.

Gulfport, located as the center of the test site, was completely bought out. The town

Bayou LaCroix water skiing is under fire

Water skiing in Bayou LaCroix west of the bridge brought two delegations before the board of supervisors Tuesday. Joseph Bonvouloir, board attorney, finally was asked to confer with them and advise the supervisors what steps to take to secure speed limits and any restrictions necessary on water skiing. Objection appeared to be more to the water than to skiing.

For tag sales

Seek computer

How to calculate the best bid on computerized sale of auto license tags stamped the board of supervisors again Monday and it postponed until June 24 a decision on the matter.

Representatives of Hancock Bank and Computer Services, Inc., were on hand to explain their bids. Hancock offered to handle 9,000 tags at $8,900 for the first year and $1,900 the second, CSI bid $8,806 on the basis of 9,000 and argued Monday that 90 per cent of the charges would be incurred in the first year.

Supervisor Eugene J. Ellett and C.A. Russ, III, sought a pilot recommendation from Shortell-Tur Colletor Fred Carter on which bid he would recommend. But the sheriff indicated he hadn't analyzed the prices and was more or less bound to provide computerized tag sales because of a campaign pledge last year. He noted he'd had lots of advice against it.

Supervisor Dolph Holler inquired why the sheriff couldn't finance the project himself, and since the method of tag sale for collection is up to him, Holler said if Carter would recommend the levies and tags bid, he'd move to acceptance.

The Computer Services man suggested the supervisor cool his heels and wait for the commission's decision.

Commission Director Charles Elmers, Jr., said the three contestants waited auto and trailers.

The helicopter fell in water off the marshy area but was 16 cents and it had been told to include each requirement in its bid.

Eugene Kollar objected to the bids it might let down, the board agreed to hold for its June 24 session an application from Lloyd H. Pittman for a 10-year tax waiver for an expansion on a sand and gravel wash pit he has recently established in the north county area. This is under the new industry provisions of the state law. Helicopter crashes

Three men, a pilot and two members of the Gulf Coast Mosquito Control Commission, made their way to catch Tuesday after their helicopter, having had to carry on routine inspection work involving salt marsh mosquito breeding grounds, crashed into ocean water off Lower Point Clear, near Bayou Caddy.

Inolved were W.C. Morris, 48, of Gulfport, the pilot and Milton Stiles and Bill Shaw of the commission.

Commission Director Charles Elmers, Jr., said the three contestants waited auto and trailers.

The helicopter fell in water off the marshy area but was 16 cents and it had been told to include each requirement in its bid.

Kollar is employed by Robins Air Force as the pilot of the three-pilot helicopter now under lease by the commission.
